

Computational Chemistry and Physics on the Nanoscale

July 18-31, 2009

Hotel Estalagem das Minas Gerais, Ouro Preto, Minas Gerais

Lectures and tutorials in computational chemistry, computational physics, nano and materials science

This winterschool is addressed to Brazilian MSc and PhD students in chemistry, physics, materials science or related subjects with a strong interest in computational chemistry and physics. The workshop is funded by the German research council (DAAD), which covers accommodation and full board for successful applicants.

Information and online application: theory.chm.tu-dresden.de/ccpn09

Organizers/Speakers:
Jan-Ole Joswig (TUD)
Hélio Anderson Duarte (UFMG)

Thomas Heine (JUB)
Gotthard Seifert (TUD)

Ulrich Kleinekathöfer (JUB)
Welchy L. Cavalcanti (IFAM)

Augusto F. Oliveira (TUD)