Completion and wrap-up grants aim at supporting doctoral candidates for up to three months during the final and/or wrap-up phase of their doctorate. Applicants can apply for grants up to three months before submission of the thesis and until up to two months after the thesis defense. Eligible are doctoral candidates in the final and/or wrap-up phase of their PhD, whose current financial support in form of scholarships, work contracts and/or third party funding has expired.

Duration of funding: The scholarship is awarded for a maximum period of three months depending on the available budget.

Extent of funding: The monthly grant consists of 1500€ and a monthly non-personnel cost subsidy (for e.g. material/ travel expenses) of 103€).

If applicable, a monthly family allowance of 400€ for the first and 100€ for each additional child can be paid.

Eligibility: Doctoral candidates of TU Dresden in the final phase of their PhD, whose current financial support in form of scholarships, work contracts or third party funding expired.
